Facts You Should Know

SECURITY

1. We prefer that your presence here not be known beyond those authorized. It is assumed that you will run into friends both here in the Agency and at the Pentagon. If queried about your presence in Washington, do not divulge the fact that you are attending meetings at CIA, but merely state that you are here for a series of conferences at another Defense Department installation. Should you run into friends here in CIA you may state that you are attending meetings here, but do not divulge the nature of these meetings. This Agency is run on a strictly compartmented, need-to-know basis and Agency personnel should not query you further.
2. Persons may reach you by phone by dialing [] and asking for extension [] CIA telephone operators will not answer outside calls except by repeating the number dialed. These operators will not connect outside parties with anyone inside the Agency unless the extension number of the party desired is given. If your caller does not know your extension they will not be connected. When giving the above number to persons who may need to call you, do not associate it with the Agency, but merely state that it is the number where you may be reached. For calls from the Defense Department or other governmental agencies, the caller may use the governmental code, 143 and the above extensions. 25
3. Outside calls may be made on the three phones located on the table inside the main entrance to Building [] These are unnumbered telephones so you cannot refer to them to receive an incoming call. The Department of Defense may be reached by using the code dial number, 131. [] the Chief Instructor of this course, will show you the location of the pay booth telephones. 25
4. Security regulations prohibit the taking of any notes during the course.
5. The folder containing your material must be turned in at the close of each day.
6. Students wishing a copy of the schedule should so indicate to the Chief Instructor who will see that they are provided with a sterilized version of the schedule at the end of the two weeks.
7. The badges you have been issued must be shown to the guard at the entrance upon entering and leaving the building at all times. These badges must be returned at the end of the course -- DO NOT LOSE THEM or TAKE THEM AWAY WITH YOU. You may enter [] Alcott Hall (directly [] with these badges. No badge is necessary to enter the R & S Building where the cafeteria is located. 25
8. If in doubt concerning anything to do with your presence here do not hesitate to contact the Chief Instructor for advice.

ADMINISTRATION

- X1
1. Incoming messages for all students will be taken by the Training Assistant, [] located in Room 109 of this building. It is suggested you contact her during the "breaks". Urgent calls will be delivered to you in the classroom and you are free to leave the room to answer them.
 2. Inside the main entrance of this building is a coke machine, milk bar, candy and ice cream machines as well as an instant coffee and chocolate machine. For those preferring regular coffee, there is a snack bar just inside the main entrance of Alcott Hall. Light lunches, newspapers, etc., may be procured at this snack bar.
 3. The only cafeteria in the vicinity is located across the street in the large building known as the R & S Building. Your badges must not be shown upon entering the cafeteria. Breakfast is served starting at 0715 hours and lunches starting at 1100 hours.
 4. Following the opening day, transportation will be furnished daily from the Main Entrance of the Pentagon to [] and return. There will be a green shuttle bus which will leave the Main Entrance promptly at 0830 hours and will return from [] as soon as all are aboard following the close of classes each day. 25
 5. For officers located in downtown Washington or at one of the nearby Military Posts, the following information is pertinent: 25
 - a. If you contemplate driving to [] you will have to park on the street as indicated on the map. Due to personnel who park in this vicinity and must be at the Main Navy Building at 0730 hours, parking is almost unavailable on the street after 0715 hours. 25
 - b. The Capital Transit bus line marked "Potomac Park" - R-4 travels west on Eye Street to 19th then South to Constitution and again west to 23rd Street, around the Lincoln Memorial and down to our area, terminating directly in front of R & S Building.
 - c. There are plenty of taxis in the area. The taxis operate on a zone system. From downtown Washington you will traverse one or more zones to reach []. Example: the taxi fare from 12th and Pennsylvania Aves to [] should be 60¢. A word of caution. Be careful in taking taxis from or to the District and Virginia. Determine the fare with the driver before taking the cab. Rates appear to be what the traffic will bear when you cross Memorial Bridge.
 6. If, for any reason, you are unable to attend classes please notify the Chief Instructor at the extension given you or Captain John Bulkeley in the Pentagon on extension 78578.

PROJECT USEFUL NO. 3 - Film Schedule

Film Schedule

The following films will be shown to any students who wish to remain after the normal day's course of instruction. They have been selected as films to illustrate the various facets of clandestine activities and give a further "feel" to our activities. Films will be shown in Room 153, [] commencing at 1500 hours. Students remaining for films will be released at approximately 1630 hours and will have to secure their own transportation from Building []

25X

Monday, 15 October - "Walk East on Beacon"

A commercial film which illustrates the clandestine methods and techniques used by the Communists and other services. Cut-outs, dead drops, personal meetings, couriers, etc., are in evidence as the Soviet espionage apparatus attempts a penetration of a highly classified U.S. Government project.

Wednesday, 17 October - "Captain Cyr's Report"

This is a filmed verbal report made of Captain Cyr's debriefing in OSS in 1944. It is a fabulous account which seems incredible as he describes his activities in Brittany in early June, 1944. Clandestine action, espionage, evasion and guerrilla warfare are all recounted as well as Russian Cossack atrocities. Although completely verbal, the picture described held the attention for the entire 90 minutes.

Friday, 19 October - "Five Fingers"

A commercial film starring James Mason and based on the book, "Operation Cicero" by L. C. Moyzisch, German Military Attache in Turkey during World War II. As Cicero, valet to the British Ambassador, Mason conducts espionage in the British Embassy on behalf of the Germans in neutral Turkey. The book, in a pocket edition, is available on loan to any of the students.

Monday, 22 October - "Hell Raiders of the Deep"

An Italian commercial film with excellent "dubbing-in" of English. This concerns the Italian under-water sabotage efforts at Gibraltar and Alexandria, Egypt, during World War II. The two-man submersible craft employed were later captured by the British who attempted to use them in Norway.

Tuesday, 23 October - "OSS"

A commercial film starring Alan Ladd and Geraldine Fitzgerald. This is a composite account of OSS activities in Europe with emphasis on sabotage. Good illustrations of training for clandestine operations, the use of clandestine methods and the employment of clandestine radio communications in wartime.
